

How does Geography shaped the lives of people in China?

Key Vocabulary & Concepts

Key Word	Definition
Continent	A very large area of land on Earth, like Asia or Africa.
Landscape	What the land looks like, such as hills, rivers, and fields. .
Himalayas	A very high mountain range in Asia.
Yangtze River	A long river in China.
Desert	A very dry place with little rain, often hot during the day.
Vegetation	The plants that grow in a place. .
Adaptation	- How living things change to survive in their environment.
Economy	How people make, buy, and sell things. .
Trade	Buying and selling goods between people or places.

My knowledge...

1) Where is China and what makes its geography unique?

2) What do China's mountains, rivers, and deserts tell us about its geography?

3) How do China's climate zones and vegetation belts make it such a varied country?

4. How do climate and geography affect daily life in China?

5. How does China's geography influence its economy?

